Tax Rate Is Set at $2.09 Next Year

Council Faced With Necessity For Raising Large Amount

Attorney Rules Council Cannot Order Recount of Bond Ballots

Sierra Madre's municipal tax rate for the coming year will be $2.09 on each $100 of assessed valuation. This is an increase of 21 cents over the rate last year.

Faced with the absolute necessity of some increase in the rate, the city council struggled with the problem until a late hour at their regular meeting Tuesday night. They tried to figure some way to hold the rate down, considering shoving here and paring there. In view of the fact that the voters recently authorized a water bond issue with the understanding that it would add 26 cents to their tax rate, perhaps they were lucky to get out with a net increase of only twenty-one cents.

The tax rate will be distributed as follows: Bond interest and principal retirement, 87 cents; general fund $1.00; park fund 9 cents; library fund, 13 cents.

City Clerk Dietz reported $3,844,170 as the total taxable valuation for the city of Sierra Madre, on the returns made by the county assessor. The various rates will yield for bonds and interest, $33,443; for general fund, $38,441; for park fund, $3457; for library $4997; total for all purposes to be raised by taxation, $80,341.00.

The budget as finally adopted by the council will set aside the following sums for various municipal departments: General purposes, $14,000; police department, $6,000; fire department, $3,000; health department $3,000; refuse collection, $8,000; highways, $13,000; music and promotion, $1,000; city planning commission, $1,200. Total, $49,200. To meet this budget the $1.00 general tax levy will provide $38,441 and the balance is expected to be met out of miscellaneous receipts such as fees, fines, rentals and other items which amount to about $10,000 annually.

The most spirited discussion was over the public library levy. D. C. Ashmore, chairman of the library trustees, presented the request of that body for a budget allowance of $5100, the library expenses during the past year having been about $4300. He called attention to the consistent growth of the library patronage as shown by constantly increasing book circulation which was more than 46,000 in the year ending June 30. The library service has approached closely to the limit on the basis of one employee and the trustees face the necessity of a part time helper if the public demand is to be met.

Councilman Belohlavek said he thought there ought to be some point where the library expenditures could be curtailed. Councilman Myers said he thought it was foolish for the council to question the conclusions of the library trustees who had evidently given much study to library needs. He was backed up in this by E. D. Topping, former mayor, who said the library board had always been reasonable in their requests and were entitled to all they asked for. The request was also supported by George B. Morrledge.

Alley Attending Public Affairs Meet at U.S.C.

Walter W. Alley is attending the Institute of Municipal Affairs now in session at the University of Southern California. He reports the sessions as being highly interesting and profitable, with many officials and students of public affairs leading in the discussions. In addition to being a member of the Sierra Madre public library board, Mr. Alley is on the staff of the city engineer of Los Angeles, and was granted leave of absence for the purpose of attending the sessions.

The Busch Gardens, open to the public for the past twenty-five years, and the proceeds of which for the past several years have been given to a fund for the aid of disabled veterans, will be closed September 1. Heirs of the late Mrs. Lilly Busch have ordered the estate closed. It is believed the large tract will be subdivided.

CHIEF E. H. KEEGAN SECURES FINE 'SHOW' FOR PARK SERIES

Chief of Police E. H. Keegan is battling an even 1,000 per cent in the City Park Concert Series this summer, his latest achievement being the securing of an entertainment by the Los Angeles police department for the night of November 2.

Mr. Keegan co-operated with the Firemen in securing their band for last evening's concert, and has had an active part in all of the programs this season, giving much time and energy in arranging the stage, hooking up the lights and "strong-arming" the orange boxes and planks, for the "box seats."

Co-operation of that sort from both Mr. Keegan and Mr. Carpenter has contributed greatly to the success of the season's entertainments.

A.R.C. Sends Thanks For Local Work

Shipment of Garments by the Production Committee is Welcomed

Grateful acknowledgement of the work of the Sierra Madre Red Cross chapter was received from San Francisco headquarters by Mrs. J. Milton Steinberger, chairman of the production committee. Mrs. Grace Street, secretary for volunteer service wrote in part:

"May I express to you and the members of your production committee our delight at the production which you have forwarded. The garments are indeed attractive and I am sure that the children will be delighted with them. I cannot tell you how grateful we are for the extra sweater. It seems almost impossible to maintain a sufficient stock of warm hospital garments. The demand for sweaters is unending. My gratitude goes out to the knitters for their patience and loving efforts in this tedious work."

"If your Christmas bags can be finished for the China shipment leaving September 15th, they would be welcome. Washington has asked us to send 5,000 bags this year instead of the 1300 we usually send."

Mrs. Steinberger requests members of the production committee and others interested to hold themselves subject to call for a meeting and work on the Christmas bags soon.

Supervisor Invited For Ballot Talk

Club Section Seeks Light on Propositions Coming Up For Vote

County Supervisor Fred Beatty is expected to be present at next Wednesday's meeting of the current events section of the Woman's Club, according to the announcement of Mrs. W. J. Lawless, chairman. If he cannot be present it is expected he will send a representative. The particular thing sought is a clear understanding of county affairs as affected by the ballot propositions this fall. Among these one of great importance will be the proposed $1,000,000 bond issue for purchase of a state building site in Los Angeles.

Consideration will be given to the number of state departments now functioning in Los Angeles, for which quarters must now be rented. Non-members of the Woman's Club will be welcomed at these Wednesday meetings which will be held regularly through August and September for discussion of the many propositions on the ballot.

Robert ("Bob") Cox spent Wednesday and Thursday with his parents in this city. Bob was on leave of absence until 8 a. m. Thursday morning, but acting on a hunch or something of similar nature, he decided to go on board Wednesday night at 12 o'clock. When he reached the pier at San Pedro, he discovered that his ship had been ordered to sea to locate and destroy a derelict, and he missed the boat by just two minutes. He spent the night in a hotel and came back to spend the following day in Sierra Madre.

Scout Band Here Next Thursday

Recognized as Finest Scout Band In Existence—Has Won Many Prizes

Local Scouts to Have Part in Program—Silver Light On Exhibition

The Los Angeles Boy Scout Band, recognized as one of the leading musical organizations on the coast, will be in Sierra Madre next Thursday evening to appear on the Park Concert Series. The band has been secured through the efforts of E. B. DeGroot, Los Angeles Scout executive, who is a resident of Sierra Madre, and who will make a short talk during the evening. The band is composed of fifty members, and is under the leadership of Philip Memoli.

The band is recognized as the best Boy Scout band in the United States. In 1924 the band made a tour of the Hawaiian Islands, and four years ago won the first prize for bands at the State Fair, in Sacramento.

The band was selected in 1924 by the National Council, Boy Scouts of America, to go to Europe as musical escort of the American Boy Scouts at an international meeting. Owing to unexpected difficulties in financing the trip to Atlantic Coast, the boys were unable to make the trip, but it is expected that next summer they will be selected to go to Liverpool, Eng., on a similar mission.

The band subscribes to the Boy Scout motto, "Do a good turn every day," and plays at every opportunity when not in competition with professional bands or other professional organizations. The band has played many times at various hospitals in the city. The boys are uniformed in distinctive and handsome uniforms and present a splendid appearance, both in concert and on the march.

One of the features of the concert will be a parade, beginning on Baldwin Avenue, with the city park as the objective. In line of march will be Boy Scouts from Sierra Madre and other communities in the district, and also Silver Light, the Welsh pony presented to Boy Scouts last year by the Kellogg company, will be seen, ridden by Scout Hugo DeGroot, son of E. B. DeGroot. Silver Light was three times champion of England in his class and is valued at $6,000. During the concert he will be on exhibition at the park and will attract much attention from the youngsters of this community.

Word of the coming concert has been broadcast in the regular bulletin sent out from district headquarters, and an announcement will also be carried in the Monrovia and Arcadia papers. It is expected that the band will be greeted by one of the largest gatherings in the history of the city.

The program will consist of popular and classical selections, but lovers of jazz are likely to be disappointed, as jazz is taboo in the band's repertoire.

On Monday, August 27, the band will be the official band at the Long Beach Exposition and on the afternoon and evening of August 29, they will play concerts at Catalina Island.

The only expense connected with the appearance of the boys in this city will be transportation over the P. E. from Los Angeles and return, and for a "spread" that will be provided following the concert. The committee will probably call on business men who have not already donated to the expense of the concert series during the next week. Private citizens, so to speak, may leave their contributions at the bank. The committee has felt a keen obligation to visiting artists this year and has endeavored in every way to show appreciation, in most instances staging a "party" after the concerts. The money obtained in subscriptions is the only fund available, and the number of concerts already staged, not to mention the 4th of July celebration, has about exhausted the treasury.

Orville Emley, manager and president of the local telephone exchange, is expanding his duties during the next three months, by managing the San Fernando and Monrovia exchanges in addition to his regular duties. In the meantime his family is at the beach, while Mr. Emley is spending his "vacation" by working harder than ever.

CITY PRAISED FOR DISTINCTION OF NO BILLBOARDS

Seldom has Sierra Madre received a more charming bit of publicity than the leading item in Lee Shippey's "Leaside of L. A." in Sunday morning's Times:

"There is one charming suburb of Los Angeles which ought to be a national shrine. In its limits, which gently embrace 6000 people, there is not a single billboard!"

No ordinance forbids billboards, but public sentiment so opposes them that the two or three which have been erected from time to time soon have been torn down by the sadder but wiser builders.

Not long ago one national concern wished to put on a campaign which included billboard advertising, and called on its local agent in that suburb to co-operate. His reply was a point-blank refusal. "There isn't a billboard in my town now," he wrote proudly, "and I will not be the first to introduce anything so destructive to civic beauty. . . And if I did, you'd only lose by it. The billboards would arouse resentment rather than buyer interest."

The little city which holds this honor, perhaps unparalleled in the whole United States, is Sierra Madre.

Canyon Pool To be Voted By District

City Attorney Rules Special Bond Election Must Be Held

On behalf of the Canyon Improvement Association, J. P. Nash appeared at Tuesday night's council meeting with other members to submit the petition for construction of a swimming pool and bath house in the canyon under a district bond issue. A letter accompanying the petition recited the overwhelming sentiment in favor of the pool existing on the east side of town, shown by the vote at the recent bond election when the $7600 issue was turned down by the city as a whole. The petition contained the names of about 250 owners of property in Tract No. 2456, the Canyon Park tract, which was specified as the territory to be taxed for the project.

City Attorney Baker presented a ruling to the effect that the only improvement act under which a swimming pool could be handled as a district project would require an election at which voters in the district could vote on the bonds. Such an election could be called by petition of a small percentage of the voters.

"Give us the right form of petition and we will get the necessary signatures in a few hours," declared Mr. Nash.

Mr. Baker said in his opinion the city must be prepared to assume the responsibility for operation of the pool when completed, even though the district pays for it. Col. Hall was insistent on knowing if the city could not lease the pool for operation by an individual and Mr. Nash said the canyon people could find someone to assume the lease and operate the pool. The little pool formerly in the canyon paid a revenue and he was sure a properly equipped pool would pay even better. Engineer Gierlich said the $7,600 proposal voted on in July did not include bath-house equipment, estimated to cost $1,000. He thought that should be added if the project is to be undertaken.

After lengthy discussion, the council instructed City Attorney Baker to prepare petitions in correct form for the canyon people to circulate and get the matter properly submitted to call an election.

Lodge to Confer Second Degree Tuesday Night

Work in the Fellowcraft Degree will occupy the Masonic lodge at the meeting to be held next Tuesday night, according to announcement by Convers L. Twycross, master of the lodge. After the degree work there will be a brief program of interest and light refreshments. A cordial invitation is extended to all Masons to attend the meeting.

Police Dept. In Program Here Nov. 2

Los Angeles Officials to Show "Safety First" Films on Park Series

Nick Harris, Famous Detective, to Deliver Lecture

The City Park Concert Series is given a tremendous boost this week by the announcement of E. H. Keegan, chief of police, that he has secured Inspector Finlinson, Lieutenant Comb, Sergeant Shoemaker, the famous Police Quartet, and Nick Harris, for an entertainment program to be given here the night of Friday, November 2.

Owing to the lateness of the season and the fact that the entertainment will feature a new series of "Safety First" pictures, the entertainment will probably be held in the Congregational church, where the splendid equipment will be a distinct advantage over the portable outfit that would have to be used out-of-doors.

Lieutenant Combs is taking the place of Sergeant Johnson, who made such a splendid impression upon his audience in the program presented by the department at the Woman's Club house last year. Sergeant Shoemaker, who was assistant to Mr. Johnson last year, is still in charge of the projection equipment and will accompany the party to Sierra Madre.

Inspector Finlinson is a speaker of unusual ability and will undoubtedly have a message that will be as highly entertaining as it will be instructive.

The Police Quartet is one of the busiest musical organizations in Los Angeles. Their services are always booked far in advance, and repeated return engagements attest to their popularity.

Mr. Keegan yesterday received the assurance of Nick Harris, internationally known detective, for another address. Mr. Harris' famous trunk lecture last winter proved one of the most entertaining addresses ever given here. It had as its motive the teaching of the fundamental fact that crime does not pay, but Mr. Harris moved it from the realm of dry lectures to real entertainment by his personal charm as a speaker mystery story. His forthcoming lecture will be "Mother and Son," which will be interesting to the young people as well as adults.

New Edison Co. Office is Opened In Pratt Building

With handsome new quarters and a complete new office outfit, the Southern California Edison Company is splendidly housed now in the Pratt Building at 40 North Baldwin Avenue. And R. C. Copenhaver, local agent, is thereby made about the happiest man in the business section.

The new quarters are large enough to give ample display space for electrical appliances, including ranges, washers and smaller household utilities. A store room in the rear takes care of all surplus stock. The spacious display window sets an example in effective illumination at night to display goods to passers-by.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Burbank kept open house on Thursday at their home, 42 East Carter Avenue. The occasion was Mrs. Burbank's birthday anniversary and each guest brought a single flower in lieu of presents. By the time the afternoon had passed so many friends had passed through the doors to offer their congratulations that the house was a veritable bower of bloom. Mr. and Mrs. Burbank were assisted in welcoming the guests and in the serving of refreshments by Mrs. R. S. Corlett, Mrs. John Lowe, Miss Larjar and the Misses Margaret and Jane Griebenow.

On exhibition in the News office this week is a bunch of apples from the home of W. W. Bayard, 305 East Laurel Avenue. The unusual thing about them is the presence of nearly mature apples and a number of blossoms on the same stem. Mr. Bayard says he planted the tree many years ago and does not know the variety—they are "just apples." But he may have a variety worth developing for he says this performance is a habit with the tree. It blooms at all sorts of seasons and is apt to bear mature fruit at any time of year.

NEWS ADVERTISING SHOWS FINE RESULTS FOR SHERMAN DAIRY

When Henry Sherman, of the Sherman Dairy, dropped in to pay his monthly advertising bill early this week, he volunteered the statement that his advertising in the News certainly paid.

"It's the first time I ever used newspaper advertising, and the results are so good that I don't want to miss a single issue. I am adding new customers almost every day."

Of course, the first contact is only part of it, and Mr. Sherman is doing his part by rendering courteous and efficient service and a high grade product.

Dr. H. L. Hoyt of Los Angeles will preach again next Sunday morning at the Congregational Church. Topic, "The Highest Form of Service."

Mattoon Act Case Is Won By Pasadena

Court Approves Colorado St. Proceedings in Spite of Technicalities

Objections to Mattoon Act Are Overruled in Verdict

Highway proceedings under the Mattoon Act were given much encouragement by the verdict of Judge Edwin T. Bishop in a Pasadena case, rendered on Monday. Suit was brought to tie up the widening and improvement of Colorado Street from Broadway to Orange Grove Avenue. The city of Pasadena was given a complete victory and the proceedings were given judicial approval.

In view of the several objections urged against the Pasadena proceedings the case was watched with interest. Some of the objections were on technical points alleged to invalidate the proceedings, while others were directed against the Mattoon Act itself. In every instance the court ruled against the plaintiffs. The city treasurer was ordered to sign the bonds for the improvement as a legal obligation of the city.

Definite steps toward the opening, widening and improvement of the Pasadena end of Foothill Boulevard to connect with Walnut Street in Pasadena, were taken on Monday by the Pasadena city directors. A resolution was adopted giving general approval to the project, authorizing the county to proceed with preliminary surveys, and agreeing to grant jurisdiction to the county supervisors for carrying out the joint project.

Assessment Rolls Show Steady Gain

Taxable Valuation Is Shown by Assessor to Be $3,844,170

Sierra Madre's total assessed valuation for the current fiscal year is $3,844,170, according to information supplied from the office of the county assessor, Ed. W. Hopkins.

This total is made up as follows: Real estate, $2,246,170; improvements thereon, $1,284,300; personal property $362,755; money and credits, $65,265.00.

From this total must be deducted exemptions of $114,320 to arrive at the total taxable valuation, which is $3,844,170.

Taxes already paid on unsecured personal property amount to $1,344.

For purposes of comparing growth the taxable valuations for different past years are interesting. The valuation last year was $3,692,805; for 1918 the figure was $1,739,650, and in 1908 it was $960,000.

Local taxes are assessed by the county assessor, the same figures being used for municipal and county taxes. Municipal taxes are also collected by the county tax collector, the whole service being rendered on a percentage basis which makes it more economical than to maintain a local tax department.

Black-White Paving to Be Casus Belli

Adherents of Asphalt and Portland Cement Join Battle

Central Avenue Scene of Contest Over Paving Material

With preliminary scouting much in evidence, and skirmish parties apt to clash at any time, the battle of the Blacks and the Whites seems likely to take place in the not distant future. Central Avenue appears to be the local battle ground in the warfare which is going on wherever there is paving to be laid.

The Black army consists of the asphalt paving interests, including producers, contractors and others who are prepared to show that asphaltum is the main essential of any paving which a community can lay and maintain its self-respect.

The White army consists of the Portland cement interests, producers, contractors, etc., who are likewise prepared to prove that portland cement must be the principal ingredient of any pavement over which a self-respecting public can drive an automobile or any other vehicle.

The first date of importance in the campaign is January 10, 1929. On that date the city council voted to instruct the special engineer in charge to confer with the other cities concerned in the project as to the type of paving preferred by them, and at the same time expressed a preference for an 8-inch pavement of cement concrete for that portion lying within the limits of Sierra Madre.

Next date of concern herewith is May 23. The council then voted to endorse the previous action endorsing cement concrete. The engineer in charge was instructed to prepare open specifications for pavement of asphaltic concrete for the highway within the limits of Sierra Madre.

Naturally the change from black to white did not suit the army of the Whites nor their sympathizers. They immediately began to plan for carrying on the campaign to insure a complexion more to their liking when Central Avenue is improved.

Next step in the campaign was the appearance of petitions on the subject. The White sympathizers have been exceedingly busy of late, getting owners of Central Avenue frontage to sign the request for cement concrete paving. At last reports it was claimed more than 5,000 feet of frontage was signed up. The total frontage of Central Avenue is about 17,000 feet, of which something like 2,000 feet may be considered as neutral by reason of public or semi-public ownership.

With the approach of the time when final action must be taken, the prospect for a real battle looks fairly certain. Before it is over maybe everybody will know more about the relative merits of black and white paving than at present.

80-ft. Highway is Recommended for Baldwin Avenue

Endorsement of the plan of opening and widening Baldwin Avenue to a width of 80 feet between Foothill Boulevard and Huntington Drive, through the Baldwin ranch, was voted by the directors of the chamber of commerce at their meeting Monday night.

In communicating this action to the Arcadia chamber of commerce which is backing the project, President Campbell wrote as follows: "This action was taken in view of the fact that the following roads intended to care for north and south travel, all of which will serve this immediate community, are under consideration for improvement: San Gabriel Boulevard, Rosemead Avenue, Encinitas Avenue, Baldwin Avenue, Santa Anita Avenue (double drive), Tyler Avenue (to connect with Second Street in Arcadia), Peck Road to connect with Monrovia, Highland Avenue in Duarte to connect with Baldwin Park and Irwindale Ave."

This program contemplates a larger number of highways of moderate width rather than a few highways of 100-foot width, as the best means of serving north and south traffic.

For the Price of a New Broom

Mother can buy enough electricity to operate her vacuum cleaner two hours each week from now to July 12th, 1929... sweep her rugs much cleaner, and do it with much less wear on the rugs and on mother.

"Electricity is CHEAP . . . . . Use More of It"

For almost everything else mother uses, she pays more than she did in 1914. But electricity, as this chart shows, is constantly growing cheaper. Today, thanks to the efficient and economical management of your public utility company, you can use more electricity, yet pay less, than ever before.

In Regard to Linoleum

DO NOT clean Linoleums with soda, lye, potash, strong scouring soap or soap powders. The acids they contain ruin the surface.

The easiest and most satisfactory way to clean Linoleum is to use warm (not hot) water and a good grade of soap, free from alkali, such as Ivory. A linseed-oil soap is also to be recommended.

Do not varnish an inlaid or plain Linoleum—WAX IT!

Current Events Section Holds Meeting

The Current Events public welfare section of the Woman's Club held another of their summer sessions on Wednesday afternoon at the club house.

Mrs. W. J. Lawless, chairman of the section, presided, opening the meeting with a resume of recent meetings, and the work accomplished, especially commending the work of Mrs. Bradley Metcalf in the interests of flood control, and Mrs. Mildred Taylor for work in her department, finance of public improvement.

Editorials concerning national affairs were presented by Mrs. Thayer and Mrs. E. T. Dunning.

Mrs. Bradley Metcalf very ably led the discussion on measures on the August 28 primary ballots, giving a great deal of helpful information about the various measures, especially proposition 1, dealing with bonds for the purchase of a site for state buildings, and proposition 2, an amendment to the county charter relative to ex-service men. A discussion and straw vote followed each analysis.

The merits of the various men on the ballot were briefly discussed by Mrs. Lawless, who stated that Judge Montgomery and Judge Westover were both so well and favorably known in Sierra Madre, a decision would be difficult for many Sierra Madrans.

It was decided to hold meetings each Wednesday afternoon during August and September to continue discussion of the 35 issues on the ballot.

Tea and a social half hour followed the interesting meeting.—Mrs. J. H. R., press chairman.

With the tire market already showing a sag in prices, Al Myers is making it still easier this week for auto owners to put tip-top rubber on their cars. He is announcing a special sale on a large variety of new tires of standard makes, and also a reduction on the re-treating service with which his customers have been rolling up mileage records.

Former Resident Passes Away

Mrs. Martha M. Gibson, former Sierra Madre resident, passed away Sunday at her home, 373 South Santa Anita Avenue, Pasadena. She was the wife of W. A. Gibson, first manager of the Safeway Store on Baldwin Avenue when it was established by the Chaffee Company. She assisted Mr. Gibson in the store and made many friends in Sierra Madre during their residence here. They resided for a time on East Central Avenue where Mr. Gibson still owns the residence. In addition to her husband, Mrs. Gibson is survived by three children, Mrs. H. E. Tabor of Pasadena, Ben H. Gibson of South Pasadena, and Mrs. Rosabel Blackburn of Rochester, N. Y. Funeral services were held on Wednesday in Pasadena.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick O. Nichols are leaving the latter part of this month for Bridgeport, Conn. It is more than twenty-one years since this estimable couple have visited their old home in New England and they are looking forward to the trip with great interest. They will travel over the Union Pacific. On their way home they will visit Niagara Falls and other places of interest.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Kieth returned on Saturday from a trip north. They visited Lake Tahoe, Santa Cruz, Monterey and General Grant National Park.

Mrs. Eva D. Moore, 71 Victoria Lane, has been taking advantage of her vacation from public school work to carry a heavy course at the University of California, Los Angeles. Having completed the course she will devote the rest of the summer to coaching and tutoring.

Canadian Waterways and Forests Lovely

Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Murphy arrived home on Monday from a six-weeks visit in the east and north, chiefly in Canada. They spent most of their time in Toronto and Elgin, Ont. Dr. Murphy is a native of Ontario and grew to young manhood there, but this was Mrs. Murphy's first visit to his boyhood home. She was greatly delighted with the entrancing scenery of the Thousand Islands. Upon starting west they took the steamer trip through Lake Huron and Lake Superior on the way to Winnipeg. They returned home by way of Duluth and Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Temple are the parents of a fine boy, born Wednesday at Pasadena Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Bridgeland and children returned this week from Oceanside where they enjoyed an outing while Mr. Bridgeland took a vacation from the designing department of the Batchelder-Wilson Tile Company.

Messrs. Tom Solury, Tom Tyler and Bob Davies and their respective families spent Sunday at Laguna Beach. All appeared for business as usual Monday morning but when his complexion brought on Mr. Davies the accusation of being a flaming youth he entered a vigorous denial. On the contrary he said he was called upon to judge a beauty parade and was still blushing from what he saw.

Double Wedding on Motor Trip

Starting a week's outing with a double wedding, four local young people spent last week touring Arizona and New Mexico. They were Harry Peterson who took as his bride Miss Opal Hill, and her brother, Fred Hill, whose bride was Miss Dorothy Norman of Pasadena. From Phoenix Mr. and Mrs. Peterson drove on to El Paso, returning home by way of Grand Canyon.

Mrs. C. Clarke and daughter Nita of 26 West Alegria Avenue went to San Francisco this week to visit for some time.

Miss Betty Moore returned on Thursday from Ellensburg and Seattle, Wash., where she has been visiting relatives several weeks. She made the trip both ways by steamer.

Al Belohlavek, Herb Munson, Ira Marsh and Sam Addis spent Sunday at Balboa Beach. Al and Herb report being dumped into Newport Bay by a couple of inexperienced rowers whose names need not be mentioned. Ira and Sam's version of the incident is not at present available.

Mrs. James Brazell of Oklahoma City has been the guest the past month of her sister, Mrs. Samuel Sen. Mr. Brazell, who is an oil operator, arrived in Sierra Madre last Friday. He made the trip west in his own airplane, his pilot landing him at Rogers Airport, Los Angeles.

Public Library in New Paint

O. E. Shimmis was the low bidder on the contract for painting the exterior of the public library. The library board recently had a belt of shingles applied to the siding near the cornice where woodpeckers had riddled the old redwood. The building will receive three coats of lead and oil paint which ought to give it a good start toward another forty years of usefulness.

Norman Morrison is making a feature of high pressure Alemite equipment in oiling and greasing service. Over there at Norm's Garage he has his high pressure equipment operated from the air tank, with extension hose to make it convenient to the outdoor greasing rack. He has endeavored to make this equipment the equal of that to be found anywhere.

Eugene Dranga of San Diego has been visiting this week with his mother, Mrs. Mary T. Dranga, 159 West Montecito Avenue.

Mrs. M. J. Thompson, who has been spending some time at Flintridge, has returned to her home at 73 West Laurel.

Miss Gibson, who is in charge of the Children's Home on North Baldwin Avenue, asks the News to state that the Home has a large quantity of fruit jars, which may be obtained very reasonably by anyone in need of them.

WHAT'S THE MATTER

READERS who have had the patience to follow the discussion of the weakness of Sierra Madre's municipal system got the picture last week. Highlights, only, of course, but detailed enough for the present purpose.

Under the system, the mayor is merely the presiding officer at council meetings. Between meetings he has no more authority than the other councilmen—which is none at all. The true executive authority rests in the majority of the council while the council is in session. Between meetings there isn't any executive authority. How can any business or organization be expected to function properly under such a system?

Business of the city is carried on between council meetings by the various departments—nine of 'em. The clerk and treasurer are elected, the rest are appointed. These departments include street, water, engineering, legal, health, police and fire.

In some cases the functions of these departments overlap. In some instances two or even three departments may be concerned in a comparatively simple piece of work. All are on an equal plane and if anything is wrong with the finished result of their joint efforts that means a three-way division of the blame, if any. If somebody wants to carry the complaint to a conclusion, the council is final authority. Over a period of twenty years, what has been the usual verdict on such complaints? "Sorry it happened that way, Mr. Taxpayer, but there isn't anything we can do about it now. It's just too bad."

Lacking a definite, continuing executive authority, covering all departments, how can good results be expected? Do we see the snap and vigor, the constant effort to secure maximum results at minimum cost, that would be expected in private business? Restrained your laughter; no joking about that question. Could any private business stand the overlapping, duplication and lost motion found in municipal business?

By this time it ought to be apparent that this questioning about city affairs is not a criticism of any official or set of officials. Sierra Madre has always had better officials than the average community. The system is at fault. The wonder is that city officials get as good results as they do under such a system. Why not have a reorganization which will make it easier for the same officials to get better results?

This brings us back to a basic statement made at the outset of this discussion. In any successful business, public or private, there must be two things: Authority and accountability. You cannot expect results unless you can exact accountability at every point in the organization. You cannot do that unless you have definitely placed authority.

More later.

WHAT THE PUBLIC WANTS

THE city council did well to deal fairly with the library board in their request for ample funds for the coming year. Less is heard about the library trustees than almost any other city officials. They meet monthly for library business, but have little contact with the public in official capacity. They are content to be represented by their very efficient and accommodating librarian, Miss Lulu Moore.

Best evidence of the public's approval of the work of the library board is in the continuing increase in library patronage. Without question, it is the most popular enterprise conducted by the city. Public usage proves it. The public do not deal with the water, street, health or police departments because they want to, but from necessity. People patronize the library because they want to.

More than half the population of Sierra Madre borrows books and makes use of the reading room. They do it from choice, for pleasure and profit. Where is there any other public enterprise which can show such actual public demand?

Now the public has literally forced the library trustees to expand the service. Last year the library circulated more than 46,000 books. Readers experienced in many libraries express astonishment that this can be done with only one librarian. The library is open six hours daily. But the librarian finds it necessary to work additional hours to keep up with the work imposed by the public.

Having just about reached the limit of library service for one employee, the library trustees are facing the necessity for additional help. They are not yet decided whether longer hours for opening the library, or a part time helper for the librarian is the solution. Considering the satisfactory administration of the library in the past, the board can be depended on to give good account of the additional resources made available for the next year.

By the way: are you getting your share of benefit from Sierra Madre's fine library?

Reservations

By J. R. E.

The school situation in Sierra Madre seems at last to be getting to the point where something is to be done. With an undoubted strong sentiment in favor of more and better schools, the matter has gradually approached the point where official cognizance must soon be taken of the situation.

At a meeting of the chamber of commerce board of directors Monday night a committee was appointed, and the committee's duties will include an analysis of the school needs of the community, not only at the present time, but in the immediate future.

A group of local business men secured an appointment with Acting Superintendent Upjohn for Wednesday morning, and that gentlemen listened most attentively to the recitation of Sierra Madre's school problems, from the business man's standpoint. After referring to the state school law, Mr. Upjohn stated that there seemed to be no law against the establishment of a high school district in Sierra Madre, but said he would not make an authoritative statement to this effect without securing additional information.

Mr. Upjohn suggested that the citizens of Sierra Madre take the matter up with Pasadena school authorities and attempt to arrive at a satisfactory conclusion before approaching the matter from any other angle. That, of course, is the logical procedure.

Three separate courses seem possible: Accept the situation as it stands; secure a junior high school building for Sierra Madre, at the expense of the entire high school district; or, withdrawal from Pasadena and establishing an independent high school district.

It is suggested in some quarters that the best temporary solution would be to secure a tract of land comprising eight or more acres, and build a completely new plant to take care of students up to the ninth grade. Whether that could be done economically and efficiently, and affording the proper tie-in with the succeeding grades in the Pasadena schools is another matter.

At any rate, it appears that the situation is progressing rapidly from the conversational stage to the realm of action. And the people can write their own ticket.

The office of the county superintendent seems to be in the proper hands. Mr. Upjohn is eminently fitted for the position in point of education and business ability. But, more than that, he is cognizant of his responsibility to his constituency. A fine spirit of courtesy and a willingness to be of assistance characterizes the present regime in the county superintendent's office.

I know a chap who quit the study of the law because he could see no justice in it. In classes he was taught that, in practically every instance, there were supreme court holdings on both sides of every question. It appeared to be a matter of sharp wits and clever practice rather than a matter of right or wrong as between parties.

A big eastern corporation, so the story goes, had a lawyer on the payroll who was always able to cite the law on most any subject as the reason why certain things could not be done. He was dismissed shortly in favor of an assistant who could point to the statutes which said certain things could be done.

Attorneys of the former class are saved a lot of worry. When their recommendations that certain things can not be done are accepted as final, that settles the matter and the fact of whether they are right or wrong is hard to determine. Attorneys who can find ways to do things, may at times, perhaps, be found on the losing side of legal tangles but their clients, whether individuals, corporations or municipalities, eventually get somewhere.

Who Remembers

When it was claimed that Sierra Madre needed a new city hall because upon its construction depended the safe-guarding of ALL the public records?

Page Mr. Tunney

The belief prevails that the find is an ichthyosaurus, a monster of the Jurassic Period. Its skeleton is being brought to the National University for study and classification. If the hunters actually found the beast while it still had its flesh attached to the bones it would appear to indicate that it perished recently, probably while fighting with another marine. — New York Evening Post.

Manager Florida Citrus Growers Visits Exchange

General A. H. Blanding, production manager of the Florida Citrus Exchange was a visitor at the August 8th weekly meeting of the California Fruit Growers Exchange, Los Angeles. The Florida citrus expert told the exchange directors that his state had a 20-million box crop in prospect. His estimates of 12 million boxes of oranges and 8 million boxes of grapefruit nearly equals the largest Florida crop on record. General Blanding also stated that the crop would start moving early, around October 1.

In speaking of the recent organization of shippers and growers in Florida, General Blanding stated that they had as objectives better standardization, advertising and distribution of their citrus crops, as is now being done in California by the exchange. He spoke of the fact that Florida has unquestionably benefited from the consistent Sunkist educational advertising campaigns which have been instrumental in increasing orange consumption.

Up and Coming

I would announce to the voters of Hood River and Wasco counties that on account of being in near future practically offered a college degree, I hereby postpone my candidacy for nomination of state senator.

TIME HAS PROVED

that the Exchange is the logical selling outlet for California citrus fruits.

SEASON by season, year by year, the California Fruit Growers Exchange has experienced a steady increase in membership, until now approximately 75 per cent of all California citrus crops are marketed through this one great cooperative organization.

This means that more than 11,000 citrus growers in California—three out of every four—have found through their own personal experience that the Exchange offers them the logical outlet for their fruit.

During the past five years 20 associations or shippers have come into the Exchange.

During the past year alone, such established shippers as the Elephant Orchards, Redlands; the L. V. W. Brown Estate and Riverside Orchards at Riverside; Bradford Brothers, Placentia; Highland Citrus Association, Highland; El-Bar-Dor Citrus, Covina; Imperial Valley Grapefruit Growers Association, El Centro, after careful investigation and comparison, have joined the Exchange.

The Hillside Packing Association, Lindsay; Cooperative Citrus Association, Exeter; Canoga Citrus Association, Owensmouth; Irvine Valencia Growers, Orange Co.; Feather River Citrus Groves, Oroville; Imperial Valley Citrus Exchange, Brawley; and Carpinteria Mutual Citrus Association, Carpinteria, are among newly organized or reorganized units now profiting from Exchange membership.

"We are joining the Exchange because we want our growers to enjoy the full advantages of Exchange distribution and marketing and Sunkist advertising, which have been the big factors in the success of the California citrus industry. In other words, we are convinced that through the Exchange we will receive more money for our fruit," say the new shippers.

Other marketing methods come and go, many names once prominent in the citrus industry are gradually disappearing—but the Exchange goes ahead constantly, showing a steady growth and obtaining higher returns for its membership.

Why you should Join the Exchange

Competition in production, in improving the quality of fruit, packing and handling is an excellent practice. The Exchange system encourages that.

But competition in selling means less profit for all.

Cooperation in selling, on the other hand, means an evenly distributed crop.

It means the securing of the highest prevailing prices in the different markets of America and abroad.

It means a decreased cost of production through cooperative buying in larger quantities.

It means a greater advertising campaign to further increase the average per capita consumption of citrus fruits.

It means lower selling cost through larger volume.

It means more profit to every grower.

Past and present experience has now definitely proved that more growers in the Exchange means more money for all California citrus fruits.

Street Illumination

is a necessity—not a luxury

Do you want to increase the value of your property? Modern street lighting will do it! Proper illumination is the crowning improvement to any street. It is just as necessary as paving, curb and sidewalk.

People are like moths—attracted by light. Everything else being equal, they will buy on a lighted street. Dark streets lend themselves to crime and accidents.

A good lighting installation is the cheapest improvement you can make, and one of the most important. The small cost over a period of years will be more than justified in beauty, safety and increased values.

The Marbelite Standard

is the culmination of many years of experiment and development, resulting in the strongest product yet devised for street lighting. It is made of artificial granite reinforced with steel; it does not rust, corrode or deteriorate.

Marbelite Standards are the ultimate in strength, beauty, durability and economy. Although it is a superior product, Marbelite usually costs less to install than other makes. We respectfully urge your consideration of Marbelite for YOUR STREET.

It has been stated that at the end of the year Mr. Lloyd George will give up writing newspaper articles. In recognition of this fine spirit several Fleet Street journalists have given up the idea of becoming Prime Minister. —Punch.

Dr. Arthur James Barton says the wet candidate will be smitten hip and thigh, and offhand it would seem that the former is a particularly vital spot. —Detroit News.

As well as we understand the ideas of certain forces in the political maelstrom, their slogan is, "The public be damned."—Nashville Banner.

"I eat cabbage here; they all do" is a part of the story, "Why Children Eat at Summer Health Schools. Doing what everybody does is a powerful incentive for a clean plate." At times, group suggestion is far more effective than that of the teacher. "Two black eyes for you, boy, if you make our table lose." "Eat for the sake of the table if you can't for your own." Show group pressure on the finicky dawdling eater.

Psychology is used as much as food in teaching children to eat. Children eat in health schools because they are expected to eat and enjoy what is placed before them. "I don't like it" is met with a tactful positive suggestion from the teacher, "But you will learn to like it. We always eat everything at health schools." Teacher cleans her plate, too, and answers roll call with "clean plate" as earnestly as the young eaters. She knows the value of a good example.

A dislike for certain foods, while a baffling problem at first is not such a difficult one if the child is really hungry. The first thing done is to change the child's attitude toward the food he thinks he does not like. (True food idiosyncrasies are not of this type.) He is told that it is a fine thing to like spinach, carrots or liver; that foods are like people, we like them when we know them. The child is given small servings of food at first, especially of the food he is learning to like. Again and again he gets this food in different dishes and in increasing amounts. Probably it is carrots—one time they are in soup, another time in salad, and sometimes just plain buttered until carrots are accepted and the dislike forgotten.

Each child in his turn helps prepare the noon-day lunch. This privilege sharpens the appetite and trains the child in a worthwhile activity.

Normal hungry children will eat in a happy social atmosphere where they hear helpful positive suggestions and see good examples.

Dance Studio Opens Term On Tuesday

Josephine Nelson Will Give Instruction in All Kinds of Dances

Miss Josephine Nelson, popular dancer, just returned from a tour of the West Coast Theatres, announces the opening of her dance studio at the Woman's Club, 270 W. Central Ave. Enrollment day will be Tuesday, August 21 at 10 A. M.

Classes are limited to 12 in a class so that each child may receive Miss Nelson's personal attention. By having the children start now she feels that they will not be crowded by starting both at the same time.

Miss Nelson specializes in instructing little tots as young as 3 years of age in the art of dancing, including ballet, toe, acrobatic and tap dancing, and combining proper expression with the absolute control and mastery of the muscles.

"This dancing instruction," says Miss Nelson, "is of advantage to every child for it gives one grace and poise which is invaluable."

Requests have already been received for Miss Nelson to put on several programs in which she and her pupils will appear and for which she will start working as soon as classes are organized.

News Notes from Here and There

A string of Neon beacons at fifty-mile intervals between Canada and Mexico boundary lines, on the Pacific coast, is a project that seems certain of fulfillment at no distant date. The first of the thirty-six beacons will be installed at once, it is asserted.

The loss of life and property in the recent St. Francis Dam disaster is being repeated in auto accidents on California highways every ninety days, according to the Automobile Club of Southern California. Statistics show that more than 2000 lives are being lost annually in California from auto accidents, and persons suffering injuries number more than 100,000 per year.

According to a recent newspaper survey there are 600,000 people, or roughly one-fifth of the population of Southern California, can speak or are studying the Spanish language.

Condemnation proceedings to acquire all privately owned lots, 12 in number, on the block occupied by the Azusa city hall, are to be started at once. The city will landscape the entire tract, making ample provision for a city park.

Pasadena city officials are expecting an early decision in the Colorado street-widening case now pending in superior court. It is hoped that the decision will be favorable and that the work may be continued at once.

Bids on widening and improving of Huntington Drive thru Monrovia as a 100-foot boulevard will be advertised by the city council September 4, it is stated by Robert Wygant, special counsel for the city.

The girls of Pasadena high school will no longer be so easily identified, as they have voted to dispense with the uniforms of white middie and blue skirts, the new regulations leaving the matter of dress to individual taste.

L.A. Firemen Score Big Hit In Concert

Famous Band Upholds Reputation As 'One of the Finest'

Brave firemen, splendid musicians and "regular fellows"—that characterizes the personnel of the Firemen's Band of Los Angeles which appeared in the city park concert series last evening. Playing under a severe handicap due to the absence of several members, including the director, who was playing with the L. A. Symphony Orchestra, the band nevertheless took rank among the best musical organizations yet heard in this city. The band was directed by Frank Smouse, solo cornetist, who also favored with a solo number, which called for an encore.

The band played a fine assortment of standard and classical marches and overtures and upheld in every respect the favorable reputation which preceded them.

Following the concert, the visitors were entertained by the members of the Sierra Madre Volunteer Fire Department, a fine "spread," such as the firemen are best able to prepare, being the feature. Smokes, a variety of beverages, and conversation, followed, the good-fellowship being assisted materially by W. E. Brown, of Engine Co. No. 8, who proved to be a jazz pianist of much ability. Jim Heasley, Frank Lovell, and other local vocalists assisted a number of the visitors in singing some of the old-time favorites.

Capt. Carmichael, secretary and treasurer of the Firemen's Relief Association and Captain Morrison of Engine Co. 50, were among the celebrities of the department who are regular members of the band. Mr. Morrison being manager. Arcadio Valencia, of Sierra Madre, is a member of the band, but was unable to play last night, while Owen F. Dunn, retired, also a resident of this city, was greeted cordially by his old buddies.

The band will act as the official band for the day at the Long Beach Exposition on California Day, next Tuesday. They make many appearances during the year, the most important being at the annual Fireman-Police football game. Last night's concert, however, was the first time the organization has ever appeared in a complimentary concert in a neighboring community, and Chief Richards deserves a great deal of credit for arranging the event.

who pointed out the popular demand for library service as ample justification for liberal treatment; by J. P. Nash, who said the library had been a life-saver to him during his years of illness, and by W. W. Alley of the library board. The council finally agreed to let the library levy stand at 13 cents, which will yield a little less than the amount requested.

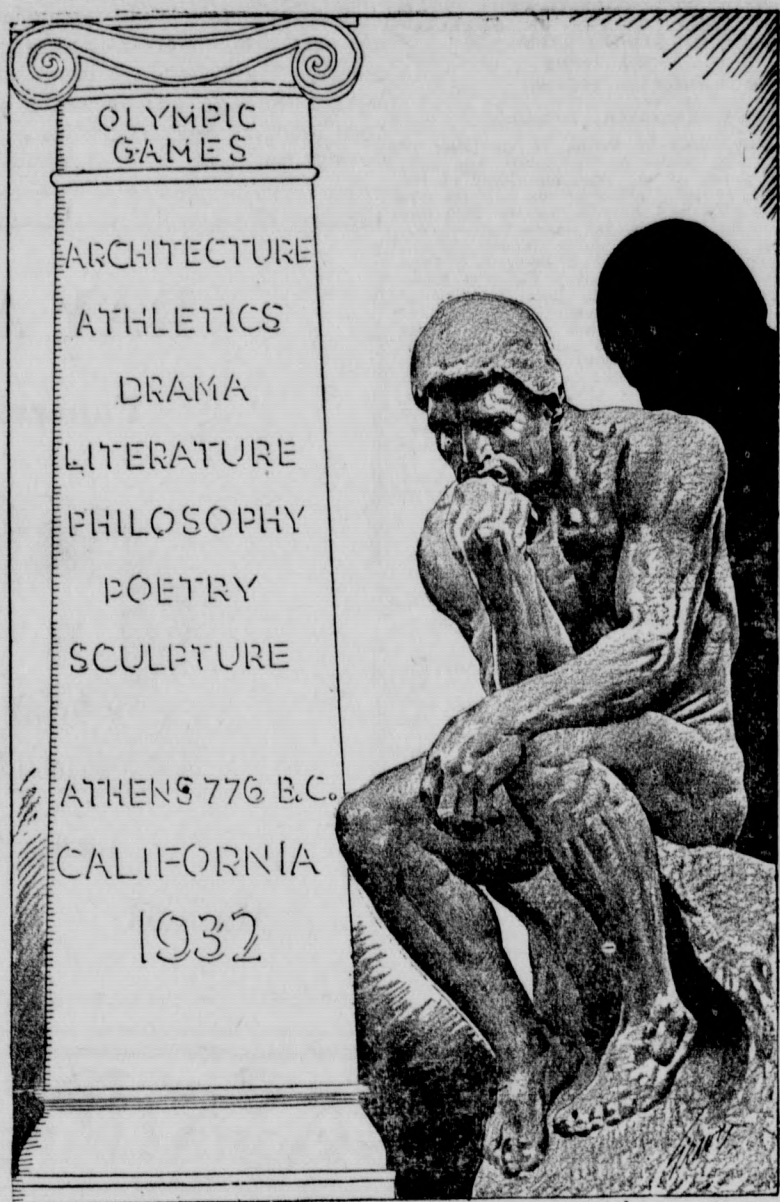

In order to keep down the amount of money required for bond interest payments the council decided to withhold issuance of part of the $130,000 water bond issue for the present. It was estimated that half of the amount would take care of water department improvements required in the next few months, and the city need not begin paying interest on the other half until it is necessary to sell the rest of the bonds to complete the program.

Recount of the ballots on the recent water bond election was denied by the council. This decision was reached upon an opinion rendered by City Attorney Baker. He ruled that the council had absolutely no authority to go back of the returns certified to the board by the duly constituted election officials. Taxpayers desiring a recount have no recourse except to bring action in the superior court. The request for recount was filed after the election by W. A. Evans, W. B. Clarke and D. F. Morton.

On the ground that the city needed a larger pool than could be secured in the proposed project, the city council of Arcadia has voted down a proposition to convert an abandoned reservoir into a swimming pool. The council is said to favor the construction of a large pool next year.

When the tenth of the modern Olympic Games are held in California in 1932, the Games that bear that name will be 2708 years old. For nearly 3000 years the Olympic idea has lived on, although wars have overthrown dynasties and wiped out nations and the games themselves were discontinued for a long period. The ancient Greeks established the Olympic Games to build up intellect as well as physique. In their periodic gatherings, art walked hand in hand with physical prowess. How powerful a stimulus to culture these old Games proved is told by history.

In the Olympiads of the future—perhaps in California in 1932—the Games will again attain to the heights they reached among the Greeks of old. At least the greatest world Games in history will be held in California in that year. Fame, glory and a period of great prosperity will follow in their wake. As the old Greek states came to the aid of the Games financially, so, at the elections of next November 6, the people of California are expected to ratify the action of the last state legislature by contributing $1,000,000 as the state's share of the expense of staging the 1932 Games.

Ball Ground Now Under Construction

Manager Scott Wants All the Kids, from Six to Sixty, Out for Play

Yerxa Lot Is Being Leveled and Put in Splendid Condition

Lovers of regulation baseball are going to be given plenty of opportunity to enjoy the pastime this winter, without going out of town, according to an announcement by C. B. Scott, manager of the local Twilight League. Mr. Scott secured the use of the Yerxa tract on Suffolk and Baldwin some time ago, and during the past several days, a crew of men has been at work smoothing off the ground and putting it in condition for play.

Mr. Scott states that he has secured plenty of cooperation from baseball men in surrounding communities and that good games will be played here at least once a week. A good line-up is in the process of formation, and it is said that a number of exceptionally good ball-tossers have been "discovered" here.

However, Mr. Scott's main objective is not so much the staging of professional or semi-professional games, but of forming several teams among the boys and young men of the community. Teams for boys from 10 to 14, from 14 to 16 and from 16 up, will be formed and if enough teams can be formed in each class to provide "league" contests, there will be several games played here each week.

Mr. Scott has had much experience in organizing and managing ball teams, from boy teams to professional teams, and knows exactly what must be done to assure success in each division. He had already interested several local business men in the possibilities for successful teams and many offers of financial assistance have already been made. If a semi-pro team is formed, it is probable that a set of uniforms will be furnished by various business firms of the city.

No admission charge will be made at the games, but when an outside team plays in the city, a collection will be taken up to help defray expenses.

The movement is one that should receive enthusiastic encouragement, and Mr. Scott states that he is confident that such will be forthcoming.

Fine Chance For Young Musicians

City Must Provide Own Band If Park Series is To Survive

"How long may we expect out-of-town bands to favor Sierra Madre with summer-night concerts," asked a well known citizen of this city, who was enjoying the swer would seem to be, at least, "Not forever."

There is no question that some silver-tongued influences on the part of some of our good citizens have secured the services of such famous organizations as the Firemen's Band, the Elks and Scouts and Boy Scout Bands, the Police Department entertainers, and so on, almost ad infinitum. But it cannot be expected that such a condition can go on indefinitely.

Consequently, the proper thing for Sierra Madre to do (if the residents here enjoy the summer-night entertainments) is to encourage the band just starting here. So far the membership has been limited to about sixteen, many of them old-timers who would like to see the youngsters come out and grow into their places. There should be at least thirty boys—and girls, too, for that matter—starting with the band, getting the invaluable experience that comes in the first months of practice.

Director Leland Auer believes that enough boys of high school age living in Sierra Madre, with a little encouragement from their parents, could readily be induced to join the new-formed organization, and in a short time the band would be able to assume the responsibility of carrying on the park concert series.

The concert Thursday night by the Los Angeles Boy Scout Band should give plenty of impetus to this idea, and interested parents should get in touch with Mr. Auer or J. N. Hawks, band manager.

The band management also invites the ladies of the community who may be interested, to join the band. The regular rehearsal of the band will be held Monday night, and the work of preparation for the concert to be given soon, continued. Good progress is being made.

New Link in Foothill To Have Paving

Work on one more portion of the Foothill Boulevard to make the artery a wide, well-paved highway from San Bernardino to the Pacific Ocean, has been started by the Los Angeles office of the state highway commission.

Gibbons & Reed, paving contractors, have begun grading and laying a six-inch asphaltic concrete forty feet wide over the three and one-half miles from Shamrock Avenue in Monrovia to the westerly limits of Azusa. The state will abandon the old Foothill Boulevard route just east of Monrovia, thereby eliminating two dangerous right angle turns. Los Angeles County is to take over the old road, which will become a secondary artery.

Plans are under way to widen and pave several other portions of Foothill Boulevard soon. The portion just west of San Bernardino already has been widened and the old pavement resurfaced, saving the state many thousands of dollars by use of the old pavement as a base.

The time limit for the completion of the Monrovia-Azusa link has been set for November 7th.

Salvador Salazar, one of the boys residing at the Plaza Community Home, is wearing plaster casts on both feet as the result of injuries received in jumping or falling over an embankment and alighting on a hard surface. Fractured bones in both heels proved both serious and painful.

the DRINK THAT HAS IT

A drink with real personality—different from anything you've ever tasted before. Peppy, tangy—it blends—and HOW! Made with fresh times—not a ginger ale. Look for the four red-capped boys on each bottle. Your druggist or grocer has it.
